“Enlightening Black America”

Black America is unenlightened. Consider the abuse and egregious maltreatment of Blacks in America historically. At the same time, listen to the solutions provided by our wise ones: Martin Delany, Marcus Garvey, Elijah Muhammad, W.E.B. Dubois, and Malcolm X. On a contemporary basis, learn how dispossessed groups have addressed, or are addressing, their problem: Timor Lesteans; South Sudanese; Palestinians; and Kurds. Separation of out-groups from in-groups generally proves to be a good thing!

Therefore, it is incomprehensible why Black Americans continue to choose to survive as dogs on crumbs from White America’s table. When will we learn to “go for self and do for self?”

Yes, it is improbable that 50 million Black Americans can or should emigrate to Africa, where we are not wanted. But it is not improbable that Black Americans can and should seek territory within the US to initiate our own new nation. Britain, the U.S., and other nations squeezed out a homeland for Jews. The Kurds have just conducted a referendum on their separation. Black Americans comprise a larger group than any of these groups, and are more deserving. No people have endured the pain and suffering of Black America and are as worthy of an independent state.

Instead of filing Rep. John Conyers’ perennial legislation requesting $10 million for a study on reparations, participating in Black Lives Matter’s street demonstration, or performing Kaepernick’s football game protests, why don’t Black Americans take real and meaningful action to solve the crisis once and for all? Seek to separate! Let us prepare to cross the Red Sea.

Where can we establish Shabazzland? Perform the research! How can Black Americans organize governance for the new nation? Explore the possibilities! How can Black Americans survive economically in a land of our own? Conduct the analysis! BlackEconomics.org serves as a good starting point for such study.

What we know is that American special interest groups are now asking President Trump and the US Government to sell land to them that could serve as Shabazzland and that may be viewed as rightfully belonging to Black America. Also, Black Americans who are in positions to organize governance and economic systems for our new homeland are busy eating at America’s trough and exploiting Black Americans who are suffering. Our “leading” brothers and sisters are not interested in establishing Shabazzland. They are doing quite well, thank you.

Let there be no fear among those interested in establishing Shabazzland. Let us not view founding Shabazzland as a super complex and overwhelming task. Rather, let us know the true nature of the process. Fundamentally, establishing and growing a nation politically and economically is akin to starting and running a family and a candy store. It is a natural process that we can achieve undoubtedly.

It is time for Black Americans to quit deluding, and begin enlightening, ourselves. White America has never had, and will never have, our best interest at heart. The only interest that White America has in Black Americans concerns how we can improve their bottom line.

This clear and certain overstanding should propel Black Americans to seek to shape our own destiny by establishing Shabazzland. But before we can bring Shabazzland into reality, we must have Black Americans willing to believe in it, work for it, fight for it, die for it, and live for it.
